Exhausted by the futility of her efforts against the city's endemic
problems and the
revolving door of
violence in her Chicago
emergency room, Dr.
Miranda Campbell came home to Wishful, where

she knew she could
make a real difference
in people's lives.

Between her clinic, a
rotation in the hospital's ER, volunteer work at the new women's shelter, and time spent
with family and friends, her life is full. But it's not too full to notice a sexy lawman when she sees one. Former US Marshal Ethan Greer is still settling into the job as Wishful's new Chief of Police, but he's starting to realize it may be years before he'll ever be considered one of the locals. Fair enough. He's the first to admit that making the shift to small town policing is a big adjustment. After losing his marriage and almost his life in line of duty, the slow pace of Wishful is a change he's happy to make. While Miranda's and Ethan

interest in each other is mutual, he's not sure
about taking on a
serious relationship.
That's just fine with her.
But when Miranda is targeted in an escalating
chain of threatening
events, Ethan's Marshal
instincts go on

rose-colored view of Wishful is putting her in danger. She's become more than a casual fling
or a job responsibility.
With Ethan's training
screaming at him to put her in protective
custody, can he find out
who's behind the threats
before he pushes
Miranda away?

We live in a polarized
time. Christians are quick to conceive of
themselves either as
theologically-minded or
worship-minded; either
thinking Christians or feeling Christians. The results are damaging:
theology without

worship is muted,
stifled, and cold, and
worship without
theology is ungrounded, unrooted, and
uninformed. This is not the way it was meant to
be. Theology (our study and knowledge of God)
should always lead to
doxology (our worship
of Him). Worship
should always be rooted in theology. When we

study the nature and
character of God as
revealed in his Word,
we are invited to
respond in the
affectionate, obedient discipleship of worship.

How can we keep our theology from being
mere head knowledge?
How do we give our worship roots that will last? By fixing our eyes on God Himself—the

them in our daily
worship of God. It
walks believers through
key theological concepts and shows how each can be lived out in daily life.
