Economic development is a priority for all nation-states, whether developing or developed. In recent times, a few among the developing nations – often referred to as the emerging economies – have attracted the world's attention because of their fast pace of economic growth. While the similarities among these nations (for example the BRICS) in the pattern of their economic growth are highlighted and discussed, the differences are often glossed over. This book, therefore, attempts to present the diverse ways in which entrepreneurship is facilitated in emerging economies, through a compilation of research papers from six different countries (India, China, Singapore, Hong Kong, Nigeria and New Zealand) belonging to the class of emerging economies. The papers included in this book cover a variety of topics related to the creation and management of an entrepreneurial ecosystem, such as intercultural interactions, IPR issues, government policies for SMEs, social entrepreneurship, opportunity identification, green entrepreneurship, employee entrepreneurship, symbiotic ventures and social capital, social fluidity mapping for reducing failure stigma, green awareness in the corporate world and among entrepreneurs, venture capital for growth, immigrant entrepreneurs, entrepreneurial success and life satisfaction, among others. The contributions are supported by an introductory chapter that provides an integrative framework by unifying the diverse patterns of economic development in the different countries

This book is indeed a must-read for those interested in understanding the process of entrepreneurship and economic development in emerging economies.

Fred has an eye for the ladies, as well as several other organs, but the only part of themselves they're willing to share with him is a carefully placed kneecap. Fred the Clown's misadventures are a curious balance of bleakness and joyful absurdism; the universe may dump on Fred from a great height, but he never gives up. More often than not, they involve the pursuit of a lady—any lady will do, it seems, but bearded ladies are at the top of the list. Disappointment seems inevitable, and it usually is; yet, almost despite himself, Langridge will occasionally give Fred a happy ending out of nowhere... p.p1 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; font: 13.9px Arial; color: #424242}

Working in his lab in the suburbs of Philadelphia a prominent scientist is murdered. Initially his death appears to be natural, but during the death investigation a young female pathologist and her mentor uncover that the scientist was injected with a lethal dose of snake venom. During the course of the investigation, Dr. Rachel Thompson's mentor is also killed in the same manner as the scientist they were both investigating. The investigation turns against Dr. Thompson when her credit card is linked to the purchase of the venom. With the assistance of her attorney and an investigative reporter a twisted conspiracy of murder is unraveled, stemming from an adulterous affair, jealousy and greed.

This is one of the most famous pieces of music ever written. There have been various arrangements done including several for orchestra, wind ensemble, brass quintet and now for 2 trumpets and organ. This version still utilizes the power and majesty of the organ but adds the brilliant sound of two trumpets above that sound. The organ pedal work has been greatly reduced to be more accessible to more organists and so that this arrangement could be learned more quickly by all.
