Is Jerusalem the site of the original Garden of Eden? "The Rod of an Almond Tree in God's Master Plan" traces Aaron's rod from the Tree of Life in the Garden of Eden to the Crucifixion Tree on the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem. Learn what clues in the Word of God confirm the true site of the crucifixion is the Mount of Olives; how the Greek text proves that the resurrection was on the Biblical Sabbath day (not Sunday) and that the crucifixion was on a Wednesday; how the Hebrew in Pilate's Inscription reveals the Name of God (YHVH), the Tetragrammaton. Messiah Yeshua (Christ Jesus) will establish His Throne in Jerusalem. "The Rod of an Almond Tree in God's Master Plan" details the amazing prophetic pattern revealing the place where God dwelt with Adam and Eve is also the place where God will dwell among His people during the Millennial Messianic Kingdom.

Excerpt from A Biblical and Theological Dictionary: Explanatory of the History, Manners, and Customs of the Jews, and Neighbouring Nations; With an Account of the Most Remarkable Places and Persons Mentioned in Sacred Scripture; An Exposition of the Principal Doctrines of Christianity Aaron himself became also the object of jealousy; but two miraculous interpositions confirmed him in his office of high priest, as of Divine appointment. The first was the destruction of Korah, who sought that office for himself, and of the two hundred and fifty Levites who supported his pretensions, Num. Xvi. The second was the blossoming of Aaron's rod, which was designed to cause the murmurings of the Israelites against him to cease, by showing that he was chosen of God. Moses having, at the command of God, taken twelve rods of an almond tree from the princes of the twelve tribes, and Aaron's separately, he placed them in the tabernacle before the sanctuary, after having written upon each the name of the tribe which it represented, and upon the rod of Aaron the name of Aaron. The day following, when the rods were taken out, that of Aaron was budded, and brought forth buds, and bloomed blossoms, and yielded almonds. This rod therefore was laid up by the ark, to perpetuate the remembrance of the miracle, and to be a token of Aaron's right to his office. Historically, the book of Exodus treats of the deliverance of Israel from Egypt; but viewed doctrinally, it deals with redemption. Just as the first book of the Bible teaches that God elects unto salvation, so the second instructs us how God saves, namely, by redemption. Redemption, then, is the dominant subject of Exodus. Following this, we are shown what we are redeemed for-worship, and this characterizes Leviticus, where we learn of the holy requirements of God and the gracious provisions He has made to meet these. In Numbers we have the walk and warfare of the wilderness, where we have a typical representation of our experiences as we pass through this scene of sin and trial-our repeated and excuseless failures, and God's long-sufferance and faithfulness.
